FINE EVENINGS BRING OUT MANY CANOES; TALK OF CANOE HOUSE

Canoeing Becoming Popular Along The Monongahela River—Local People Taking an Interest.

The overlapping of a late spring into early summer has served to bring out canoeists, and every evening when the weather is fit a number of canoes may be seen gliding about. The canoe season is opening early this year, and early indications that along the Monongahela river this this year canoeing will be more popular than it ever was, as will other acquatic sports.

Though not many canoes are now owned in Charleroi there is talk of a private canoe house being built for housing canoes along the river shore near the foot of Second street. If this is done, canoeing will receive quite a boost.

WILL BUILD FOR MUNICIPALITY

Monongahela Practically Closes Purchase of Site for New Edifice

TO HIRE ARCHITECT SOON

Monongahela will shortly be in a position to start the erection of its proposed municipal building. Recently a bond issue of $45,000 was passed, carrying $25,000 for a municipal building and the balance for the improvement of the sewer system. On Monday the city commission took up and passed an ordinance authorizing the purchase of a site fronting on Main street for a municipal building.

The sum of $10,585 is being paid for the property which has a frontage of 50 feet, and extends back 200 feet to what is known as Railroad street. The location is considered ideal for a municipal building.

An architect will be hired shortly to draw plans and specifications for the municipal building. All departments of the city will be concentrated and room provided for each in the new structure. The fire and police department will be given much needed room.

GARDENING DOESN'T APPEAL; LAD LEAVES

Charleroi Boy Vanishes When Put to Work in Juvenile Court Garden at Washington---Hies Himself to Parts Unknown

Spring sunshine, green trees and blooming flowers made freedom look pretty good to Charlie Kolatch of Charleroi Tuesday afternoon while he was spading the garden at the rear of the Juvenile Court Detention rooms so he gently laid down his spade, waved a fond farewell to the detention building where he had been awaiting the course of events in his case, then vaulted over the back fence and departed for parts unknown.

Kolatch was taken to the detention rooms of the Juvenile court from Charleroi Monday afternoon. Kolarch's life has been full of flights for freedom. While at home in Charleroi scarcely a day would pass but that he did not hie himself over the fields and far away. The parents finally tired of this wanderlust and decided that the best thing for the boy was for him to be left for a few days to the tender mercies of the Juvenile court.

of the detention rooms took Charles Tuesday afternoon those in charge out in the garden for a little exercise in preparing the soil for the reception of the cabbage and radish seed. Neither the spade nor the agrarian recreation appealed to this lover of the open and he left. At a late hour nothing had been heard of him. He wore a blue soft shirt and no coat. He is but 14 years old.

GOVERNOR BRUMBAUGH READY TO ISSUE ROADS DAY PROCLAMATION

Chief Executive Receives Call From Washington County Delegation

WILL DESIGNATE THE DATE

Promises to Name Day Already Selected—Preparations Being Made In This County—Schools Urged to Take Up the Movement.

Governor Brumbaugh, after receiving a call from a party of Washington county men Tuesday afternoon announced that he would within the next few days, issue a proclamation designating Wednesday, May 26 as "Good Roads Day" throughout the state.

The project which was started by Washington county last year as a county proposition has been taken up already by two-thirds of the counties of the state and it is believed that the proclamation of the governor will result in enlisting every county in Pennsylvania in the movement.

The Washington county delegation which laid the matter before the governor Tuesday was composed of the three representatives, T. B. H. Brownlee, H. R. Myers and G. P Baker and former Representative C. E. Carothers of Washington.

Plans are now being perfected in this county for the observance of the day. County Superintendent L. R. Crumrine has started a campaign in the interests of the movement through the school, declaring in a bulletin sent out, the value of the movement to the 32,000 school children in the county.

At Washington central committees are laying plans and it is expected that shortly the movement will be taken up in Charleroi, which was an important district in the county observance last year.

MAJESTIC THEATRE

"SATAN SANDERSON" in which Orrin Johnson, the Broadway star plays the leading role and which is announced for appearance at the Majestic tonight is the third release of the B. A. Rolfe Photoplay Company and is another release of the newly formed Metro Pictues Corporation, and in point of interest and continuity of story promises to exceed anything heretofore made into pictures from a novel.

The story of "Satan Sanderson" is the story of a wayward son whose waywardness is inherited from a wayward father, who in the autumn of his life turned for the better. The taint is in the son and it takes true love and a faithful sweetheart to bring his manly traits to the surface. "Satan Sanderson" is in five parts and is composed of three hundred scenes. In addition to Orrin Johnson, the cast includes one of the screen's most beautiful actresses, Irene Warfield, who plays the part of the blind sweetheart with a broad understanding of the role.

PRESIDENTIAL AMBITIONS.

With the approach of 1916 Presidential ambitions are beginning to rise, says the Connellsville Courier. The nomination of President Wilson to succeed himself is conceded, and if it is satisfactory to the Democratic party it is none the less so to Republicans.

The Republican candidate remains yet to be named, but it is evident that he will be the free choice of the Republican party. We hear that Senator William E. Borah of Idaho is a prospective candidate; that Representative James Robert Mann of Illinois will likely be presented as the candidate of the Republicans of that state; that ex-Senator Theodore Burton may be Ohio's favorite son; and that Governor Martin E. Brumbaugh has an ambition to be Pennsylvania's choice. Senator Oliver of Pennsylvania has already nominated Elihu Root of New York, "the greatest living American statesman." It is suspected that Ex-President Theodore Roosevelt would not mind trying it again just for the fun of the thing. Ex-President William Howard Taft will not be a candidate. When he announced his retirement he meant it.

The returns are not all in, but the offerings already indicate that the Republican National Convention will not lack for candidates of a high order of ability from which to nominate a strong ticket. This is the kind of a nomination the Republican rank and file will expect.

None but strong men need apply.

SAFETY FIRST.

It is hard to blame a dead man for a deed that brought about his own death and perhaps others, but under circumstances it is necessary. Placing the blame forcibly teaches those left what to avoid.

In the Cincinnati mine disaster of two years ago, it was found necessary to lay the blame at the door of a dead man, though censuring the operators of the mine for alleged negligence. In the more recent, though not as serious, Knob mine fatality the same state of affairs obtained.

There are rigid laws compelling a man to take care of himself and others in a mine. They are designed to prevent foolhardiness, for where a man doesn't fear for his life he does fear for the law. It is a chance when a man ventures farther than he should in a mine, but it is surety when he is caught violating a law that he will suffer.

If it is possible to make the laws stricter it should be done. But in the mean time, placing blame and giving publicity to foolhardy actions coupled with strict enforcement of the laws not on the books, will prove excellent safety first devices.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"I have been thinking," said the head of the College of Pharmacy. "that our examinations for junior clerks are not practical. We ask questions that seldom or never come up in the actual practice of pharmacy, whereas questions that do come up I fear we almost entirely overlook."

"You are doubtless right," asserted the professor of chemistry.

"So I have been thinking," continued the dean, "that it might be a good idea to go to some intelligent drug clerk, one who is now working in a store and who would be willing to compile a list of questions that come to a pharmacist in ordinary life. Do you know of such a clerk?"

"I do."

"Then kindly request him to prepare the questions for our next examination in pharmacy."

A few days later, according to an exchange, the professor of chemistry accordingly submitted the following list:

1. What have you next to soda fountain drinks?
2. What car goes to Forty-second and Umpteenth streets?
3. (a) Was there a blond young man in here this morning waiting for me? (b) Was he angry?
4. Got any stamps?
5. May I use your directory?
6. What time is it?
7. Will you look up a name for me in the telephone book?
8. What's the best thing to take grease spots out of crepe de chene?
9. Why ain't my Laundry come?
10. What's at the Frivolity this week?
11. What's in them colored bottles?
12. Does chocolate really make you fat?

After some reflection the dean was compelled to admit that the questions were thoroughly practical, but he did not use them for his next examination in pharmacy. He had to fall back upon the stereotyped stuff.

Deputy Sheriff George S. Hornbake had his first ride on the back seat of a motorcycle—experts call it a tandem attachment—last Saturday, and declares he will never, never again similarly tempt fate.

It was like this: George was anxious to return to Charleroi early in the evening and faced a long wait for a car at Black Diamond to Donora to which point he was headed. A motorcyclist happened along.

"Ho, take me to Donora," called the brave deputy. "Sure Mike," responded the cyclist.

George climbed on the back seat ready for the ride without noticing the entire lack of a cushion or other comfortable equipment. Neither did he notice there was no place to put his feet on this brand of devil machinery. However, he didn't need to worry long about not knowing, for barely had they touched the first high spot until he found out. The Donora road is generally supposed to be smooth, but Deputy Hornbake discovered differently. There were bumps, turns and slants, o'er, around and past which they flew until the deputy found himself dumbly wondering if his life insurance policy was good and if he had provided well for his wife and that latest welcome addition to the happy Hornbake family.

But he could not fall off, for he didn't know how. He could only hang tight and trust to luck, the motorist and providence, which he devoutly wished would be kinder next time.

But the pair, motorcyclist and deputy, arrived safely in Donora. Hornbake dismounted without the aid of a physician and gasped "Thank you." That was all, but some time later he was seen at the station waiting for a train not due for nearly an hour.

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Mrs. W. L. Evans, 104 Lookout avenue, Charleroi, says: "One of the family works among turpentine and oil and that affected his kidneys. He complained of a heavy, dull ache across his back and was annoyed by irregular passages of the kidney secretions. Several years ago he tried Doan's Kidney Pills, which he got at Piper Bros.' Drug Store, and they proved to be the very medicine he needed. I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, as I know they are a good household medicine."

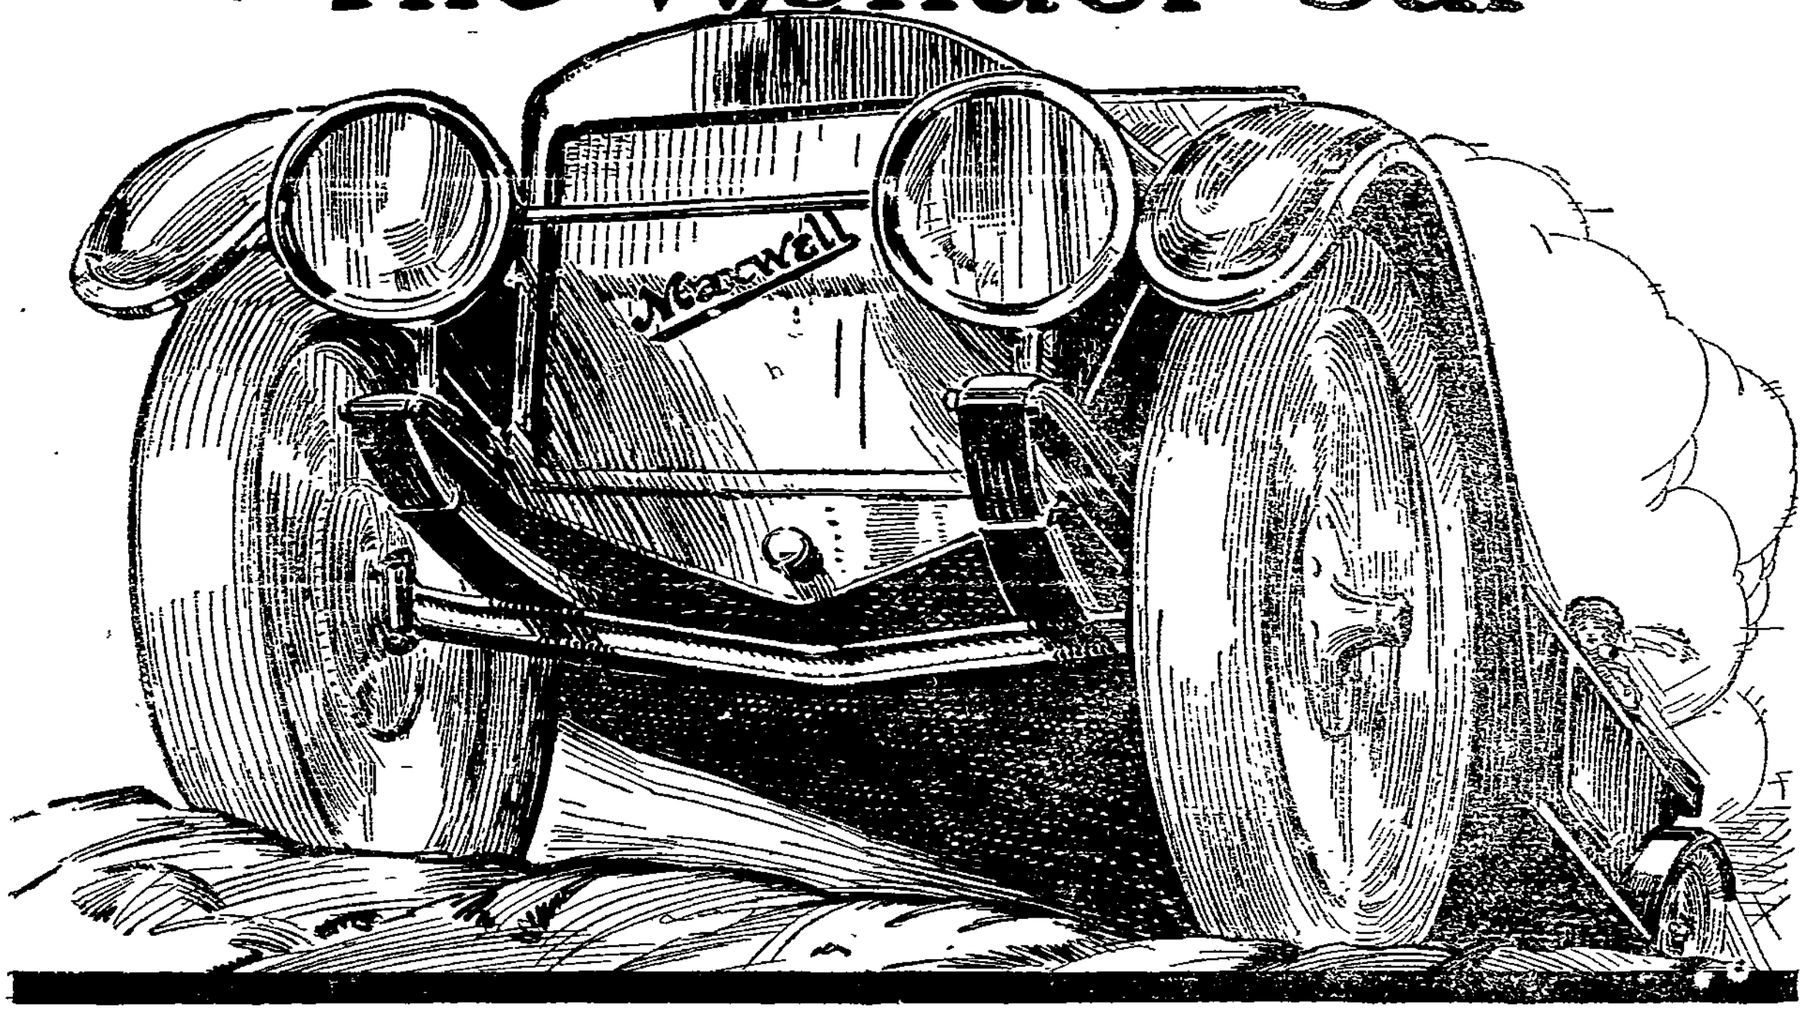
Maxwell

"The Wonder Car"



Only a Blindfolded man would buy an automobile today without looking the Maxwell over

There's no excuse today for any man who is "jollied" into buying a car before he looks over the 1915 Maxwell.

We give you the two vital things in this Maxwell Car and then the 17 new features that have made the 1915 Maxwell the most talked-about car ever produced.

Here are the two vital things that any sane man wants when he buys an automobile

In the first place

—a handsome, real automobile that he can be proud to ride in.

In the second place

—a powerful, fast, economical automobile that will take him anywhere and bring him back.

We give you these two vital things, and then just about every other detail of refinement, comfort and endurance that you can think of.

Take power and hill-climbing ability, for example—when you buy a 1915 Maxwell you buy an exact duplicate of the stock Maxwell cars in which "Wild Bill" Turner and "Billy" Carlson broke two World's Records in two of the toughest, roughest mountain hill-climbs ever made—Mt. Hamilton and Mt. Wilson.

Take speed and endurance, for example—when you buy a Maxwell you buy a car made by the same designers—the same chief engineer—from the same Maxwell Laboratory, heat-treated, tested steel, that was used in the Maxwell Racers in which Barney Oldfield and "Billy" Carlson both broke the 300-mile non-stop race records in Corona and San Diego.

Read This List of Expensive Features. The 1915 Maxwell Has These Features And Many Others.

Attractive Streamline Body

Pure streamline body; graceful crown fenders, with all rivets concealed. All the grace, style and "snap" that you will find in any of the highest priced cars.

A High-Tension Magneto

Nearly all the high priced cars have high tension magnetos. A high tension magneto gives positive ignition. The Simms magneto, with which the Maxwell is equipped, is recognized as one of the best magnetos made.

Left Side Drive—Central Control

Left side steer with gear shifting levers in center of driving compartment—center control—has been accepted by leading makers of expensive automobiles as the safest and most comfortable for the driver. That is why the Maxwell has it. The Maxwell is so easy to drive and control that a child can handle it.

Three-Speed Sliding Gear Transmission

All high priced cars have a sliding gear transmission. It is costly to make, but it is the best. If the motor has the power, sliding gears will pull the car out of any mud or sand. The Maxwell has a three-speed selective sliding gear transmission because Maxwell engineers do not consider any other type to be worthy of the Maxwell car.

Double-Shell Radiator with Shock Absorbing Device

The Maxwell radiator is of handsome design, gracefully curved and it is built to be trouble proof. It is the expensive double shell type and has ample cooling capacity. The radiator is mounted to the frame by means of a shock absorbing device on each side which relieves the radiator of all twists and distortions of the frame, caused by roughness of the road. The shock absorbing device also minimizes the possibility of radiator leaks.

The Roomy Full 5-Passenger Body Adjustable Front Seat

The 1915 Maxwell has a full grown 5-passenger body. The front seat is adjustable, you can move it three inches forward or backward. This makes the car really comfortable for the driver. No cramped legs for tall people or uncomfortable reaching for short people. Most drivers seats are made to fit anyone—so fit no one.

Low "Up-keep" Carburetor

The carburetor used on the Maxwell was especially designed for it after long and severe tests under every conceivable condition. Economy tours conducted by hundreds of dealers and owners in different sections of the country have proved its efficiency, its quick response to throttle and its extremely low consumption of gasoline. It has been termed the "low up-keep" carburetor.

Irreversible Steering Gear

The greatest margin of safety has been provided in the steering gear of the 1915 Maxwell. The Maxwell irreversible steering mechanism is of the expensive worm-and-gear type and its superiority over every other type lies in its many adjustments. At no time is more than a fourth of the bearing surface of the gear which operates the worm in use. When needed, a new bearing surface may be had by adjusting the gear a quarter of a turn. In short, the Maxwell steering gear has four times the adjustment of any other kind.

Heavy Car Comfort

What surprises most people is the smooth, buoyant riding qualities of the Maxwell. The spring suspension of the 1915 Maxwell is the same costly combination of long semi-elliptical front springs and the three-quarter elliptic rear springs that is used on most heavy weight, high priced cars. The Maxwell offers you every essential of the highest priced machines at a fifth of their cost.

One Size of Tire—Anti-Skids on Rear

The Maxwell car is one of the easiest cars in the world on tires. Maxwell owners carry but one spare tire and but one size of spare tubes. Economical 30 inch x 3½ inch tires are used all around. A famous make of anti-skid tires are supplied on rear wheels.

A Dependable Electric Starter

For $55 extra, you can have your Maxwell delivered equipped with the famous Simms-Huff electric starter. This starter is efficient, trouble proof and easily operated.

And the Maxwell is completely equipped from the clear vision ventilating windshield at the front to the spare tire carrier at the rear.

The Maxwell Company's Guarantee of Service to Maxwell Owners

No other automobile is backed by a more reliable service than that guaranteed every Maxwell owner. More than 2,000 Maxwell dealers—in every part of this country—are always ready to give expert advice, to make adjustments, and to supply new parts at reasonable prices.

This splendid Maxwell dealer service organization is perfected and completed by the chain of Maxwell owned and Maxwell operated Service Branches. Sixteen great Maxwell Service Stations are so located throughout the country that a Maxwell dealer can supply any part for an owner within a few hours if not in his stock. BROWNSVILLE HOSPITAL GETS SUM OF $45,000

State Appropriation Divided, Up-River Institution Getting $25,000 For Building and Rest for Maintenance and Equipment.

Forty-five thousand dollars was the size of the Brownsville hospital measure when it was reported out by the House appropriation committee Monday in Harrisburg. In the event that the bill is passed it will likely permit the institution to be opened by September 1.

The $45,000 appropriation is to be divided as follows: $25,000 for buildings; $12,000 for maintenance and the remaining $8,000 for equipment.

The appropriation was secured through the efforts of Representative Duncan Sinclair of Fayette county, who was chairman of the sub-committee of the house appropriations committee which has just returned from an inspection of hospitals and other state institutions in Fayette, Westmoreland and Somerset counties. The sub-committee visited Brownsville, where they were shown the needs of the institution.

The hospital has been completed with the exception of some plumbing and installation of heating apparatus. The building cost $75,000. Public contributions totaled about $30,000. The hospital received a state appropriation at the last session of the legislature of $10,000.
